Such rating may not be representative of any one client’s experience. Rankings published by magazines and others are generally based exclusively on information prepared and/or submitted by the recognized firm on the employee’s behalf. Boston Business Journal (BBJ) - Largest Independent Investment Advisers in Massachusetts 2023

BBJ recognized GW & Wade in July 2023 as a Largest Independent Advisor for the twelve months ending 6/1/23.

Firms are considered for BBJ’s annual list of 25 “Largest Independent Investment Advisers in Massachusetts” by submitting a survey to BBJ that includes total assets under management. Working with a firm on this list does not guarantee future investment success, nor is there any guarantee that GW & Wade will receive this recognition in the future. GW & Wade did not pay Boston Business Journal a fee to participate in this survey or to promote the ranking. GW & Wade’s appearance on this list is not indicative of the Firm’s future performance nor is it representative of any one client’s experience at GW & Wade.

BBJ ranks Independent Investment Advisers in Massachusetts on their list by total assets under management among Massachusetts-based advisers as of 6/1/23. Financial Advisor Magazine – Ranking of Independent Advisory Firms by Assets Under Management 2023

Financial Advisor Magazine’s ranking was awarded in July 2023 and is based on assets under management (AUM) for the year ending 12/31/2022.

To be eligible for the ranking, firms must be independent registered investment advisors, file their own ADV statement with the SEC, provide financial planning and related services to individual clients and submit an annual survey to Financial Advisor Magazine. The ranking orders firms from largest to smallest, based on AUM reported to Financial Advisor Magazine by firms that voluntarily complete and submit a survey by the required deadline. Financial Advisor Magazine endeavors to verify AUM by reviewing ADV forms.

This ranking may not be representative of any one client’s experience at GW & Wade, as this ranking is purely based on AUM. This ranking is not indicative of GW & Wade’s future performance. In 2023, the survey was completed by 521 firms and all 521 firms were included in the online expanded version. In print, 404 firms were included in the survey. GW & Wade did not pay a fee to Financial Advisor Magazine to participate in, or to promote these rankings.

The Chief Compliance Officer has reviewed the above information and has determined that the award or ranking is not designed to produce a predetermined result and that the survey makes it equally easy for participants to provide both positive and negative responses.

Forbes Top RIA Firm 2022

Forbes Top RIA Firm ranking was awarded in October 2022 for the year ending 12/31/2021.

Survey Conducted

SHOOK accepts advisors who meet pre-determined minimum thresholds and acceptable compliance records. As of this date, SHOOK has received nearly 36,535 nominations—advisors who meet SHOOK’s thresholds. 21,116 of these nominees have taken an online survey. Unlike other advisor rankings, SHOOK is not a “robo-ranker”—numbers such as production and assets don’t tell the whole story, especially when much of the data is self-reported. SHOOK Research creates rankings of role models—firms that are leading the way in offering best practices and providing a high-quality experience for clients. A focus on both quantitative and qualitative factors, including telephone and in-person meetings, is imperative.

Quality is always first, if we're going to include a firm (or advisor) on our rankings, we have to make sure everyone is of the highest quality.

- 36,535 nominations received, based on thresholds
- 21,116 invited to complete online survey
- 15,342 telephone interviews
- 3,250 in-person interviews at advisors’ location
- 1,357 virtual interviews

Basic Requirements

- Minimum of 7 years as an advisor for 1 partner/principal
- Fully operational as a practice for a minimum of 1 year
- Must incorporate a fiduciary model
- Completion of online survey
- Over 50% of business must be with individuals
- Acceptable compliance record

Quantitative Metrics

- Revenues, Assets under management—and quality of those assets, and client-related data, such as retention rates
- Portfolio performance is not a factor; audited returns among advisors are rare, and differing client objectives provide varying returns

Qualitative Metrics

- Telephone, virtual and in-person meetings with firms (if an in-person meeting cannot be accomplished, exceptions are considered in which the interview will occur after a ranking has been published).
- Compliance records. Some “dings” can be overlooked (e.g., firm or product failure beyond the scope of an advisor's due diligence; the older a ding, the less we look). Since there are many gray areas, the SHOOK team is willing to listen to a firm that is willing to stand behind the advisor with written support.

- Firms that provide a full client experience: Service model; investing process; fee structure; breadth of services (e.g., liabilities and other wealth management services)
- Credentials (years of service can serve as proxy)
- Use of team and team dynamics
- Community involvement
- Discussions with management, peers, competing peers

U4/Compliance Issues

The following conditions will be considered in order to lessen weightings infractions:

- Infractions that are denied or closed with no action
- Complaint arose from a product, service or advice initiated by a previous advisor or another member or former member of team
- Length of time since complaint
- Complaints related to product failure not related to investment advice (some limited partnerships, adjusted-rate securities, etc.)
- Complaints that have been settled (must be proven) to appease a client who remained with the advisor for at least one year following settlement date
- Complaints that are proven to be meritless
- Actions taken as a result of administrative error or failure by firm

Once an advisor's compliance rating falls into a tenable category, the following conditions must be met:

- An advisor's rating must be among SHOOK's highest qualitative measures including in-person interview
- Letters of recommendation
- Ranking Algorithm
 - o The algorithm is designed to fairly compare the business practices of a large group of firms based on quantitative and qualitative elements. Data are weighted to ensure priorities are given to dynamics such as preferred “best practices,” business models, recent business activity, etc. Each variable is graded and represents a certain value for each measured component. These data are fed into an algorithm that measures thousands of firms against each other.

SHOOK is completely independent and objective and does not receive compensation from the advisors, Firms, the media, or any other source in exchange for placement on a ranking. SHOOK is funded through conferences, publications and research partners. Since every investor has unique needs, investors must carefully choose the right advisor for their own situation and perform their own due diligence. SHOOK's research and rankings provide opinions for how to choose the right financial advisor and not indicative of future performance or representative of any one client's experience. Portfolio performance is not a criterion due to varying client objectives and lack of audited data. Remember, past performance is not an indication of future results.

Awards and recognitions by unaffiliated rating services, companies, and/or publications should not be construed by a client or prospective client as a guarantee that the client will experience a certain level of results if GW & Wade, LLC ("GW & Wade") is engaged, or continues to be engaged, to provide investment advisory services; nor should they be construed as a current or past endorsement of GW & Wade or its Counselors by any of its clients. Such rating may not be representative of any one client's experience. Rankings published by magazines and others are generally based exclusively on information prepared and/or submitted by the recognized firm on the employee's behalf.

Working with a Forbes ranked RIA is no guarantee of future investment success, nor is there any guarantee that the identified professionals will be awarded this accomplishment in the future.

No fee was paid to be considered for the award although a $6,000 fee was paid for promotional placement (i.e. listed before other firms in Google search, featured executive profiles, expanded firm description, inclusion of contact info and social links, ability to add focus areas, ad free profile, access to SHOOK logo, etc.).

The Chief Compliance Officer has reviewed the above information and has determined that the award or ranking is not designed to produce a predetermined result and that the survey makes it equally easy for participants to provide both positive and negative responses.

Citywire 50 Growers Across America 2022

GW & Wade was recognized by Citywire in July 2022 for the year ending 12/31/21.

Note From Citywire regarding the ranking methodology: We use only publicly reported numbers, which are helpfully compiled for us by Discovery Data. Only firms that report having a significant number of financial planning clients were considered, since we wanted to make sure we were only considering financial planning-oriented RIAs and not money managers. We've also limited our universe to RIAs that are not affiliated on a firm level with a broker-dealer or other institution (though their employees may be dually registered). Finally, we've endeavored to remove RIAs whose assets under management aren't truly 'theirs.' This is admittedly a bit qualitative, but we did our best to strike companies that are primarily back-end service providers rather than client-facing planners. Once we'd done all that, we looked at growth in 2021 across three categories: percentage growth in AUM, monetary growth in AUM, and percentage growth in employees. Combining these into a single numerical measure of growth, we generated the list you see here. Does that mean that these 131 RIAs are the fastest-growing independent planners in America? Absolutely not! Our list is a bit unusual in that it's broken down by state, which helps us highlight some under-the-radar stars, but also means that RIAs in the richest and most populous states must contend with far stiffer competition. As an illustration of how 'unfair' our method is, consider that our starting dataset contained fewer than 30 firms each from Alaska, North Dakota and West Virginia, while New York and Texas boasted about 1,500, and California presented us with 3,246. But of course, the whole goal of the project is to find out who's performing best in each given market – and also to find some truly interesting and successful firms that haven't yet attained national recognition. GW & Wade did not pay a fee to participate in, or promote this ranking.

GW & Wade's Chief Compliance Officer has reviewed the above information and has determined that the award or ranking is not designed to produce a predetermined result and that the survey makes it equally easy for participants to provide both positive and negative responses.

Barron's Top 1,200 Financial Advisors 2022 (Debra Brede)

Barrons recognized Debra Brede as a Top 1,200 Financial Advisor on March 2022 for the twelve months ending 9/30/21. Previous years' awards were recognized around the same time each year for the prior year.

Advisors who wish to be ranked fill out a 102-question survey about their practice. Barron's verifies that data with the advisors' firms and with regulatory databases and applies their rankings formula to the data to generate a ranking. The formula features three major categories of calculations: (1) Assets (2) Revenue (3) Quality of practice. In each of those categories Barron's does multiple subcalculations. For instance, Barron's takes into account not just the amount of assets an advisor manages, but also the type of assets—are they private-wealth assets or institutional? If they're institutional, are they for a foundation or an endowment, or are they corporate assets? Barron's measures the growth of advisors' practices and their client retention. They also consider a wide range of qualitative factors, including the advisors' experience, their advanced degrees and industry designations, the size, shape, and diversity of their teams, their charitable and philanthropic work and, of course, their compliance records. 6,186 advisors submitted applications for the 2022 Top 1,200 Advisors ranking, of which 19% made it onto the ranking. No fee was paid by Debra Brede or GW & Wade to be considered for this award although a $15,000 fee was paid for promotion (e.g. upgraded online advisor profile, official digital ranking icon, listing in quarterly Barron's publications, Wall Street Journal wealth guide promotional placement, newsroom tour, and a 1 year subscription to Barron's advisor digital)

The Chief Compliance Officer has reviewed the above information and has determined that the award or ranking is not designed to produce a predetermined result and that the survey makes it equally easy for participants to provide both positive and negative responses.

Barron's Top 100 Women Financial Advisors 2023 (Debra Brede)

Barrons recognized Debra Brede as a Top 100 Women Financial Advisors in June 2023 for the twelve months ending 3/31/23. Previous years' awards were recognized around the same time each year for the prior year.

Barron's bases its ratings on a proprietary analysis of the following qualitative and quantitative criteria: a minimum of 7 years of financial services experience, acceptable compliance record, client retention, assets under management (AUM), revenues generated, and the quality of the advisor's practice. A portion of the ranking considers a sampling of a financial advisor's clients. Please note that this is not representative of any one client's experience. Barron's does not provide a count of eligible nominees for the award, citing its data as proprietary. Investment performance is not a criterion.

Barron's received 1,028 submissions for the 2023 Top 100 Women Financial Advisors ranking, of which 9.7% ranked.

No fee was paid by Debra Brede or GW & Wade to be considered for this award although a $15,000 fee was paid for promotion (e.g. upgraded online advisor profile, official digital ranking icon, listing in quarterly Barron's publications, Wall Street Journal wealth guide promotional placement, newsroom tour, and a 1 year subscription to Barron's advisor digital.)

Women advisors who ranked in Barron's Top 100 Women Financial Advisors list for 10 straight years (2006–2015) were recognized and featured as Barron's All-Star Women Advisors.

The Chief Compliance Officer has reviewed the above information and has determined that the award or ranking is not designed to produce a predetermined result and that the survey makes it equally easy for participants to provide both positive and negative responses.

Barron's Top Independent Advisors 2020 (Debra Brede)

Barrons recognized Debra Brede as a Top Independent Advisor in September 2020 based on data gathered by Barron's for 2019.

The rankings are based on assets under management, revenues generated by advisors for their firms, and the quality of the advisors' practices. Investment performance isn't an explicit criterion because performance is often a function of each client's appetite for risk. In evaluating advisors, Barron's examines regulatory records, internal company documents, and 100-plus points of data provided by the advisors themselves. Barron's does not provide a count of eligible nominees for the award, citing their data as proprietary. This award is not indicative of the wealth manager's future performance. Your experience may vary.

Barron's 2019 Hall of Fame Advisors

Barron's Hall of Fame Advisors was awarded to Debra Brede in 2019. Forbes recognized Debra Brede with these awards in February 2023 based on data as of September 30, 2022. Previous years' awards were recognized around the same time each year for the prior year.

The rankings of Forbes' Top Women Wealth Advisors & Top Women Wealth Advisors Best-in-State 2023 are based on an algorithm of qualitative and quantitative criteria, including a minimum of 7 years of experience, and factors such as revenue trends, AUM, compliance records, industry experience, and best practices. Shook Research conducts the survey and attempts to measure best practices, which include business models, activities, processes, and structure.

Investment performance is not a criterion because client objectives and risk tolerances vary, and advisors rarely have audited performance reports. SHOOK's research and rankings provide opinions intended to help investors choose the right financial advisor and are not indicative of future performance or representative of any one client's experience. FT 400 Financial Advisors 2020 (Debra Brede)

FT recognized Debra Brede as a FT 400 Financial Advisors 2020 in April 2020 for the previous year. Previous years' awards were recognized around the same time each year for the prior year.

For the FT 400 Financial Advisors 2020 list: The Financial Times and Ignites Research, the FT's sister company, contacted the largest US brokerages in autumn 2019 to obtain practice information and data for their top advisers across the US. Financial Times evaluated nominees on 6 primary areas and calculated a numeric score for each advisor. The areas of consideration were AUM, asset growth, compliance record, experience, credentials, and accessibility. Among the top factors in the scoring, assets under management accounted for an average of 70 percent of each adviser's score. Also, AUM growth rate (examined over a three-year period to June 30 2019, to emphasize long-term performance) accounted for an average of 18 percent. The FT also places a cap on the number of advisers from any one state that corresponds to the distribution of millionaires across the US. In 2020, approximately 940 applicants were considered and 400 (42.6% of candidates) were recognized. The 2014 FT 100 Women Advisors list uses similar criteria as the FT 400; 415 qualified applications were received, of which 24% were recognized. For the full methodologies, please visit www.ft.com.

The Chief Compliance Officer has reviewed the above information and has determined that the award or ranking is not designed to produce a predetermined result. Although the survey was completed while Ms. Brede was at Commonwealth Financial Network, GW & Wade (based on the above criteria) reasonably assumes the survey makes it equally easy for participants to provide both positive and negative responses. GW & Wade did not pay a fee to FT 400 Financial Advisors to participate in, or to promote these rankings

As a result of being recognized on this list, Ms. Brede was invited to be a member of the Financial Advisor IQ Leadership Council in 2022 and 2023. No fee was paid to be a member of this Council.
